Dear Trudie and Paul:

My visit to Dayton in the fall just did not seem complete without getting to spend some time with you and to visit in your home. I remember with continuing gratitude the way you have received me in the past and been concerned about my work. Please be assured of my deep thankfulness for your encouragement.

I hope this letter finds both of you attending the services every Sunday. I know that there are times when one can get discouraged. However, with the help of God and by the power of the Holy Spirit who dwells in us, it is possible for us to overcome any barrier. Your lives touch a great number of people; and, therefore, you both have a special responsibility to live completely for the Lord.

At the holiday season, Sue and I remember you fondly and send both of you our very best regards for a happy holiday season and a meaningful new year.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
